The following sections will answer most of the important questions that you may have about how we fulfill each of these important principles, and how we will hold ourselves accessible and accountable to you.

Why We Ask for Your Personal Information

We ask you for information to establish and serve you as our client. Personal information obtained from you will be used by Bancorp to protect and administer your accounts, records and funds; to comply with certain laws, regulations and regulatory policies; to help Bancorp improve products and services offered to you. The information we ask for depends on the products or services your request and in most cases are required by law or the policies of the regulatory organizations to which we are subject. Your social insurance number, for example, is required for products that earn investment income, in order to comply with the Canada Customs and Revenue Agency’s income reporting requirements.

Sharing such information will help us serve you better and determine whether any products or services we provide through our affiliated companies are suitable for you. Sharing your personal information also helps us determine your financial needs because it allows us to review what products of Bancorp you have and how you use them. We may use certain information to provide you with information about Bancorp and its products and services. This consent is optional and you can decide to withdraw it at any time. Please refer to the Understanding Your Options section.

We only collect the information we need and only use it for the purposes explained to you. When you apply for a new product or service, we will indicate in the application or agreement how we intend to use your personal information. If we wish in the future to use it for another purpose, we will ask you for your consent at that time. We will only ask for the information we need for that particular product or service. We will indicate clearly which information would help us to serve you but is optional for you to provide.

How We Collect Personal Information About You

We may contact references you have provided or credit reporting agencies to verify information that you have given us or to give us information on your credit history. We will not do this without your consent, but please remember that if you do not give your consent we may not be able to provide the particular product or service you have requested.
